

Reading Response Questions

Reading response questions to use with practically any book to hold your students accountable with their independent reading.

Teacher Note

I created this document to hold my students accountable during their independent reading time where they take SRI (like AR) quizzes. Even though my kiddos were taking quizzes on books that they read, I still wanted to have some type of daily accountability, especially when they were reading chapter books.

This two page document I run 1-2 sided and put in a page protector. It then lived in their organizational binder. When there were 5-10 minutes left in our independent reading block, I would have my students respond to the book they read that day. My students have a separate notebook that they use only for their reading responses.

For each response, I required that they date their response, write the number of the response question they were answering, and whether their book was fiction or non fiction. Then I required them to write AT LEAST a 2-3 sentence response to their selected question.

Example:

8/30/11

#7 Fiction

I think that the author wrote Sideways Stories From Wayside School to entertain. I know this because there are many funny stories in this book, and it always makes me laugh.

I have my students draw a line after each response, so they are able to fit many responses in their notebook during the year. I use their reading response notebook to help guide my independent reading conferences and I will often take a few home a week to write little note to my students in their journal about their responses. They love this!

These reading response sheets have helped turn my SRI block into a much more purposeful time for my students, and it's great way to practice responding to a text, which is essential in a testing grade!

I hope that you enjoy these reading response questions. If you have any questions, please email me at lisa@fourthnten.com
